Our students are excited to learn more about Laurel Snyder's books and to have an opportunity to spend time learning from this critically acclaimed author.

"Everyone has a story to tell. Everyone has a book only they can write. It's critical to me that kids value their thoughts, feelings and experiences—the fun ones and the tough ones too—and learn to tell their own stories. I want them to know how powerful they can be." --Laurel Snyder

We are offering her books for sale prior to her visit, and Ms. Snyder will sign each book that is purchased. Students must order and pay for their books now so that the books can be shipped to us in time for her visit.
